

SET UP PLANS FOR MAY 30TH EVENTS HERE

Col. Robert Beechinor, professor of military science and tactics at Gettysburg College, will be master of ceremonies for the annual Memorial Day program May 30, Chester S. Shriver, chairman of the committee in charge announced Friday afternoon following a meeting of officials of the Memorial Day committee at the engine house.

Attorney Eugene R. Hartman will deliver Lincoln's Gettysburg Address at the rostrum exercises. Rev. Robert A. MacAskill will give the invocation and Rev. Fr. LeRoy Spisak the benediction.

Memorial Day Committee Secretary William G. Weaver said efforts to secure New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller as a speaker had proven unavailing. Next week Weaver and Chairman Shriver plan to visit in Washington to secure a speaker. Pennsylvania Governor David Lawrence had agreed to speak last fall, but had to send notice declining the offer later this spring, because of a conflict in scheduling.

Similar Schedule

Weaver and Shriver said the program this year will follow much the same course as other years. The school children and other units of the parade will form at Meade School on May 30 and march from there on Chambersburg and Baltimore Sts. to the National Cemetery.

At the cemetery the ritual service and strewing of flowers by the school children in the center of the cemetery will precede the rostrum exercises.

LeRoy H. Winebrenner, marshal for the parade, said present acceptances indicate there will be a total of four bands and two drum corps in the procession.

In addition to the local and county area unit, the Irish Bridge Memorial Association of Philadelphia will again participate in the parade and exercises, then hold a program of its own at the Irish brigade marker on the battlefield following the local services.

Another crop-killing frost penetrated deep into the plain states. Five persons were injured, one hospitalized, when a tornado struck the southern Louisiana hamlet of Hathaway Friday night demolishing four homes. KOREA PLANS NEW ELECTION AND REFORMS

By JAMES CARY

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—South Korea swept along in a fever of reform today with plans for new parliamentary elections and purges of provincial governors and corrupt police.

The drive to tear down all symbols of authoritarianism associated with ousted President Syngman Rhee's 12-year rule was accompanied by high praise for the student insurgents who toppled his regime.

Directives have already been issued to revise laws Koreans felt curbed their freedom of speech, press and assembly.

Plan Changes

Also on tap are plans to place before the National Assembly by May 10 constitutional amendments establishing a cabinet-responsibility form of government in which executive powers would rest in a prime minister. The president would become the ceremonial chief of state.

Assembly consideration of the constitutional changes next month would permit passage by at least June.

The assembly, dominated by Rhee's now discredited Liberal party, then plans to dissolve.

New parliamentary voting would follow as soon as possible.

Presidential elections are supposed to take place within three months of the effective date of Rhee's resignation. Rhee resigned April 27 but the National Assembly has yet to act on it.

Charge Crooked Election

Charges that the March 15 elections which returned Rhee to a fourth four-year term and elected his running mate, Lee Ki-Poong, as vice president, were crooked was one of the major sparks which started the student uprising. There were later demands that a completely new Parliament be elected, too.

Lee Ki-Poong committed suicide with his family on Thursday. Rhee and Lee were to be inaugurated Aug. 15.

Acting President Huh Chung disclosed he is firing all nine provincial governors previously appointed by the Liberal party, and would reshuffle provincial police directors.

Negro Prexy Threatens To Expel Students For Campus Demonstrations In South

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The president of a predominantly Negro college in Kentucky has threatened to expel any students who take part in further anti-segregation demonstrations on the campus.

R. B. Atwood also threatened to close the school when student demonstrators demanded relaxed curfew hours and more campus liberties at the college in Frankfort.

The demonstration was halted abruptly but students cried "No, no," when Atwood withdrew official college recognition of the Frankfort chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, sponsor of lunch counter sit-down protests.

Seven Are Arrested
New sit-down demonstrations were staged at Savannah, Ga., Austin, Tex., and Chattanooga, Tenn. Seven were arrested for unlawful assembly at a Savannah store but there were no arrests in the half dozen Austin demonstrations or the four at Chattanooga. At Concord, N.C., four Negro demonstrators were fined $25 for trespassing.

In Washington, President Eisenhower's committee on government contracts hailed the hiring of two Negro building craftsmen on construction jobs as a breakthrough against racial prejudice in the nation's capital.

Parents and guardians of 161 Negro children in Durham, N.C., asked a federal court order directing the school board to operate schools on a non-racial basis.

Defended By Governor
North Carolina's Gov. Luther Hodges stoutly defended his state's pupil assignment solution to the school problem. He told a statewide television audience that North Carolina's approach has proved itself "during a time when the course followed in some other states was producing turmoil, tragedy and most ironical of all, resulted in bringing about more racial integration than has ever been the case in North Carolina."

The Mississippi Legislature passed several new bills, providing fines up to $300 and jail terms of up to six months, aimed at Negro sit-down demonstrators and pickets.

A cross was burned on the lawn of Helen Reich, assistant director of student affairs at the State University of Iowa. Her office has been instrumental in removing racial restrictions from the constitutions of several fraternities.

WARM APRIL IS SHORT ON RAIN

The warmest April in 15 years and the driest since 1955 went into Gettysburg weather records today. It followed the coldest March on record here and left this year three-quarters of an inch short on rain.

A "hot spot" in the month that sent the mercury into the 90's for two days and up to 89 for two more made this month one of the warmest Aprils on record here. Freezing temperatures were recorded on only three days although there were frosts on several others.

The high was 92 degrees on April 23 and the low was 30 degrees on the morning of Palm Sunday, April 10. Temperatures averaged 56.3 this month. Normal for April is 51.1 degrees. The hottest April on record here was 1921 when temperatures averaged 58.2 degrees but the high for that month was only 90 degrees.

Only 6 Days of Rain

The average daily high was month was 68.3 degrees and the average low was 44.3 degrees.

Measurable amounts of rain fell for only six days this month and totaled only 2.98 inches. Normal for April, the traditional month of showers, is 3.59 inches. This month's shortage made it the driest April here since 1955.

The 2.98 inches of rain this month brought the 1960 accumulation to 11.79 inches which is 0.74 inches short of normal for the first four months of the year.

There was no measurable snow this month but flurries were noted April 6.

CIRCUS BUS UPSETS TODAY

A Georgia man was hurt while 15 others in the circus bus with him escaped injury when a busload of employees of the Cristiana Brothers circus upset 1½ miles east of here on the Lincoln Highway this morning at 3:30 o'clock while en route from Waynesboro to Lancaster.

State police said Bryce Reed, 46, Griffin, Ga., suffered a laceration of the forehead which required eight stitches to close and a possible concussion when the bus fell over on its right side. He was removed to the Warner Hospital in the Gettysburg Fire Department ambulance.

According to state police, Roy Lee Lowrance, 36, Buchanan, Mich., was driving the bus loaded with 16 passengers east on the Lincoln Highway when an unknown auto traveling west entered the center lane of the three-lane highway. As the westbound car continued to veer toward the east-bound lane, Lowrance drove farther off the south side of highway. His bus went down a four-foot embankment and fell over on its side, causing $200 damage to the vehicle owned by Palm Circus Equipment, Seema R. 1, Ala.

The circus truck was towed to Lancaster following the accident.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

RHEE ATTENDS
FUNERAL FOR HIS PROTEGE

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Syngman Rhee, his old eyes dim with tears, paid final respect today to his political heir who ended his life in shame for the revolt that unseated the 85-year-old president.

Lee Ki-Poong and his family, who joined in a suicide pact in Oriental atonement for the uprising sparked by Lee's election as vice president, were buried amid wailing and melancholy.

Applause broke out as Rhee, his eyes moist, was escorted to the caskets of his protege, Lee's wife, and their two sons, one of whom had been adopted by the childless Rhee.

The Lee family died together Thursday in a cottage on the grounds of the presidential palace.

The four caskets were atop an improvised altar in the lecture hall of Metropolitan Army Hospital where 300 mourners paid their respects.

Another thousand persons milled outside the hospital, cheering Rhee as he arrived and left. At graveside services on a mountainside overlooking Seoul, a South Korean army chaplain told nearly 3,000 mourners: "Lee Ki-Poong has taken all the responsibility. But actually, it was not all his responsibility. The people should share some."

SIX CANADIANS ARE KILLED IN PLANE CRASH

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Six Canadian air force men, including Air Commodore J. G. Stephenson of Windsor, Ont., were killed Friday night when their B25 bomber crashed into fog-bound Lake Michigan.

The Royal Canadian Air Force plane attempted a emergency landing at Billy Mitchell Airport after it developed engine trouble. It missed on its first try for a landing and then circled around over the nearby lake and crashed with a muffled roar.

Coast Guard boats and other craft immediately started a search. Flares were dropped from an Army helicopter. An all-night search of the area, two to four miles off shore, resulted in the finding of several parts of the plane and considerable clothing but no bodies.

The plane took off from Ottawa late Friday and was headed for Truxav Air Force Base at Madison, Wis., where the men planned to look over the North American Air Defense Command.

The control tower at Mitchell Field reported that it got a call from the bomber's pilot about 9:30 p.m. asking for permission to land because it had a "runaway prop."

Students Engaged
In Close Research

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When an insurance executive lamented that new employees have not learned how to spell while in school, high school English teacher Myron T. Seifert directed his students to write 500 business executives about the situation.

Most replied, and Seifert's students have been analyzing their own spelling ability and learning habits in terms of what the businessmen say is necessary for success. Ohio State University's educational research bureau is making a related study.

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korea's acting President Huh Chung denied today he has a son working in Boston, Mass. A man working as a statistician in Boston said he was Huh Chou, son of the acting Korean President. He said that in Boston he used the name Hubert C. Huh because American people found his own name difficult to pronounce.

to drive out the sitdown strikers. He said the students were free to come out any time they wanted to, explaining: "They are youths. We will give them beds, not bats."

Harassed by spreading riots, Menderes accused his political rivals of inciting the student demonstrations.

The tough premier extended martial law for three months in the nation's two main cities — Istanbul and Ankara.

Menderes' government strove desperately to stem the mounting tide of opposition as Turkey prepared to play host to U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and other top diplomats at a NATO foreign ministers council session.

Herter was to leave Tehran today for Istanbul and conferences with top Turkish leaders before the East-West summit talks.

The city was tense with army tanks and troops standing guard around Istanbul University where 2,000 students vowed they would remain on sitdown strike until Menderes resigns and the bodies of 11 comrades they claim fell in Thursday's riots are returned to them. The student leaders said 40 others were still missing.

The commander of army forces encircling the university grounds said the students could come out any time they wanted.

"They are youths," he said. "We will give them beds, not bats."

Menderes appealed by radio to the people to help keep order and asked them to turn in any rumor spreaders.

The Premier, who rules with a tight fist, branded the student demonstrations which have spread to three major Turkish cities as "detrimental to our nation." He accused his political opposition of using agents to incite riots.

The movement so far appears confined to university students.

OCEAN FLIER
LONG OVERDUE
OUT OF TOKYO

HONOLULU (AP) — Coast Guard planes searched the waters and islands of the Pacific today for long overdue Peter Gluckmann, the flying San Francisco watchman. Gluckmann vanished in radio silence three days ago on a try for a non-stop record for light planes from Tokyo to New York.

A Bandera, Tex., housewife, Mrs. J. E. Sifferlin, reported hearing what she thought was a short-wave radio message from Gluckmann that he was setting down on an island 150 miles from Honolulu.

But there was no sign of Gluckmann on any of the beaches within that radius of Hawaii and a Coast Guard spokesman called the search "a very long shot."

Gluckmann, 34, who has been flying single engine planes across oceans for seven years and holds several records, was last heard from in a confirmed radio report at 9 a.m. EST Wednesday, seven hours after he took off from Tokyo. Gluckmann had estimated flight time to New York at 38 hours. His sponsors in Seattle estimated his gasoline supply would last until 10 p.m. EST Friday.

3 YOUTHS ON
JOY RIDE DIE
IN CAR CRASH

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — An automobile spun out of control and smashed into a tree early today, killing three of four youths out for a joy ride.

The crash occurred on Parkside avenue near Bryn Mawr avenue opposite Fairmount Park, in West Philadelphia.

The three, trapped in the car's wreckage, were killed outright. The victims were Thomas R. Manley, 16, of Glendon, a junior at St. James Catholic High School in Chester; Robert T. West, 20, and Thomas Sharp, 19, both of Philadelphia.

The driver, Thomas J. Rush, Jr., 18, of suburban Ridley Park, escaped with minor injuries. He was a classmate of Manley.

Drove Around Aimlessly
The ride started at 8:30 p.m. Friday, first with two of the boys, who later picked up the others, and for hours drove around aimlessly, police said.

Early today, as the young men cruised in the area of Flat Rock Dam, they decided to hurry home since, as the survivor related, they had overstayed a curfew imposed by their parents.

Rush lost control of the car, slithered for more than 40 feet, then swerved and rammed into the tree. The right side of the car was telescoped and the roof split open. The windshield was ripped out in a single piece and was hurled across the street and shattered. Rush was thrown 20 feet.

ENJOY MANY INTERESTS

It is such an inspiring decision to create—and own—a hobby of some sort. Many a person has added such a one to his life plan—and it has added years of life to every one who has entered upon so thrilling an experience.

A hobby melts dullness like butter in the sunlight. Not only can a hobby be a blessing, but it can prove contagious. The years of happiness a hobby gives to the enthusiastic hobbyist are never wasted. They keep climbing mountains! A much beloved hobby serves as a wonderful thing with which to sweep out the mind. And how essential is such a sweeping. I know of nothing so useful to stir many another interest.

I have a book about the silver bearded Walt Whitman, and the author called his book "A Magnificent Idler." Whitman's hobby was to study people and to tell them about the simple grandeur of all nature and the lessons that can make life worth while. There are no dull lines in the poetry of Whitman. They increasingly inspire. It was his hobby to be pleasant and try to be an interpreter of all nature, from the smallest to the greatest. That's what an important hobby should do!

MAN AND THE ROAD
There is no path that surely leads to fame,
No roadway at the end of which lies glory.
Whatever be the highway or its name,
Success and failure mingle in its story.This road or that? No difference does it make,
The long straight stretch or narrow path and winding,
On every path that mortals choose to take
Some splendid fame, some failure grim, are finding.The victors conquer where the failures fell.
'Twas not the road they chose that brought disaster;
The timid falter where the brave do well.'Tis self, and not the path, that man must master.

THE LASHELLS FAMILY

The genealogical study of the Lashells family, of the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago, is continued at this time.

The Lashells family burial plot in the "Upper" Low Dutch Graveyard (more commonly known as Osborne's) contains but three marked graves but there are at least four unmarked ones and perhaps more — the condition of this old cemetery makes it somewhat difficult to discern the unmarked graves. It is very probable that Mary, the wife of Ralph Lashells, who died May 25, 1819, is buried here in a grave that was never marked or from which the monument has long since disappeared. Captain Ralph Lashells, son of George (the Tavernkeeper) and Margaret (Houts) Lashells, and the husband of Mary Lashells, died some two years after his wife and is buried in the graveyard of the Buffalo Crossroads Presbyterian Church, Buffalo Township, Union County, Pennsylvania.

"Enterprising Citizen"

2. Adams Centinel, Wednesday, August 1, 1821 —

"Died, at New-Berlin, Union County, Pennsylvania, Thursday morning, July 26, 1821, Captain Ralph Lashells, late of this Borough (Gettysburg). In him the public has lost an enterprising citizen, and his children their last remaining parent."

3. Adams Centinel, Wednesday, June 27, 1825 —

"Married June 6, 1825, by Rev. John Driesbaush, Mr. Robert P. MacLay to Miss Margaret C. Lashells (formerly of this place) but now both of Union County, Pennsylvania."

Note: — The daughter of Captain Ralph and Mary Lashells, born in the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago. Nothing further is known pertaining to this member of the Lashells family.

Marriage In 1830

4. Adams Centinel, Tuesday, January 4, 1831 —

"Married Thursday, December 30, 1830, by the Rev. T. Woods, Alexander McEwen, Esq., of Northumberland County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Ida Lashells, daughter of George Lashells, Esq., formerly of this County."

Note: — A daughter of George Lashells, tavernkeeper, and his wife, Margaret Houts, a sister of Captain Ralph Lashells — all natives of the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago, who emigrated, after 1809, to Union County, Pennsylvania.

5. Adams Centinel, Tuesday, May 15, 1832 —

"Married, May 9, 1832, by the Rev. T. Wood, Mr. James T. Smith, of Lycoming County, Pennsylvania, to Miss Mary A. Lashells, daughter of George Lashells, Esq., of Union County, Pa., but formerly of Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Had Six Children

Note: Mary (Lashells) Smith was a daughter of George Lashells (tavernkeeper) of the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago, and his second wife, Sarah Lashells. Nothing further is known pertaining to this branch of the Lashells family.

6. Adams Centinel, Tuesday, May 1, 1832 —

"Orphans' County, Gettysburg. Heirs and legal representatives of Esther Lashells, late of the Borough of Gettysburg, Deceased, viz: — Eleanor Donaldson, William Clark, Walter Clark, who has since deceased leaving legal issue six children, two of whom to wit, Henry Clark and Emily Clark, are now of full age, and the remaining four, to wit, Eleanor Clark, George Clark, Thomas Clark, and Michael Clark, are yet infants; John Clark, and Ralph Lashells (since deceased, leaving legal issue, to wit, Margaret Lashells intermarried with John P. McClay, Eleanor Lashells intermarried with Brown McClay, Walter C. Lashells and James Lashells)."

Daughter Or Sister

Note: — Just where Esther Lashells fits on the Lashells family tree is not known with any degree of certainty. It is quite possible that she was either a daughter or a sister of George Lashells, tavernkeeper.

7. Adams Centinel, Monday, July 21, 1834 —

"Died, Monday, July 7, 1834, Mrs. Sarah Lashells, the wife of George Lashells, Esq., of Buffalo Township, Union County, Pennsylvania, but formerly of Adams County, Pennsylvania. Mrs. Lashells was born on the 4th of July, 1776, and received a stroke of the palsy on the 4th of July, 1834. She has left an aged husband and a number of children to mourn her loss."

Note: — The second wife of George Lashells, tavernkeeper in the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago, to whom he (George Lashells) was married shortly after the death of his first wife, Margaret Houts, in 1809.

8. Adams Centinel, Monday, April 19, 1841 —

Joined Crossroads Church

"Married, Thursday morning, April 15, 1841, by the Rev. Samuel Gutelius, Mr. Daniel Lashells to Miss Margaret Kitzmiller, both to this church there is a number."

Note: — Daniel Lashells was probably a son of Captain Ralph Lashells and his wife, Mary Lashells.

After George Lashells and his immediate family emigrated to what is now Buffalo Twp., Union County, Pennsylvania, they became members of the Buffalo Crossroads Presbyterian Church. In the burial ground attached to this church there is a number of Lashells graves and genealogy of the family can be greatly enlarged through a careful study of the inscriptions from the grave markers. These will be included in this study.

The notes on the Lashells family will be continued in this column next week.

STUDY CLAIM OF FINDING TWO
WICKED CITIES

BOSTON (AP) — Experts say careful investigation should be given reports that the Biblical cities of Sodom and Gomorrah have been found at the bottom of the Dead Sea.

Two experts Friday said it would be improper to undertake the reports of Dr. Ralph E. Baney that he has found the wicked cities, but both urged cautious evaluation.

They are Dr. Frank Moore Cross Jr., professor of Hebrew at Harvard and curator of Harvard's Semitic Museum, and Dr. Neil Richardson, Old Testament professor at Boston University.

Dr. Baney, of Kansas City, reported in Amman, Jordan, that he and other divers have found the cities, which apparently were destroyed by an earthquake.

The Bible says the Lord destroyed those two cities, and others, by fire and brimstone as punishment for the sins of their inhabitants.

Baney, executive director of the Christian Approach mission, has been exploring the bottom of the Dead Sea since February.

ITALY GETS PREMIER FOR SIX MONTHS

ROME (AP) — Crisis-ridden Italy finally had a government today. It asked to stay in office only for six months, but might be doomed within six days.

Christian Democrat Fernando Tambroni was in as prime minister with the strangest government this country has had since the war.

He was a "summertime premier" pledged to keep his hands off politics and finish his work by fall.

His government had Fascist backing which it did not want and which might yet split the Christian Democrat party after 14 years in power.

Wins Confidence Vote

Tambroni mustered enough strength in the Senate to win a vote of confidence Friday night that did not depend on Fascist friendliness.

But his Socialist-Communist opposition called for a new vote in six days — on May 5 — in the Chamber of Deputies where Tambroni's party does not have a majority.

Italy has only had caretaker administration through 66 days of crisis while Christian Democrats tried and failed to find partners for a majority coalition.

LANA TURNER'S
DAUGHTER, 16,
ESCAPES HOME

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lana Turner's 16-year-old daughter, Cheryl, who two years ago stabbed her actress mother's hoodlum lover, escaped Friday night from a county-operated home for girls. The statuesque, troubled teenager had been committed to the minimum security El Retiro Home for Girls six weeks ago for what her mother termed psychiatric therapy.

Cheryl and two other girls climbed over a chain-link fence and faded into the residential neighborhood near the home in the San Fernando Valley community of Sylmar.

Cheryl in 1958 fatally stabbed Johnny Stompanato, ex-bodyguard to ex-gambler kingpin Mickey Cohen, during a fiery quarrel between the handsome underworld figure and her mother.

She plunged a kitchen knife in Stompanato's midsection at the height of the argument. He died on the pink carpet of Miss Turner's bedroom while the actress frantically tried to revive him.

The slaying was ruled justifiable homicide after the actress tearfully told a coroner's jury that Stompanato threatened to kill her. Cheryl and Lana's mother.

Police said they were not planning any special search and were treating the case as a routine runaway juvenile. Officers identified the girls with Cheryl as Donna Wilson, 15, and Cheryl Zumbur, 16, both of the San Fernando Valley.

Let's Look At The Record

NAMES FOR WARSHIPS
Navy's System For Names Now Obsolete
Problem Is New Names For Newer TypesBy JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

A MINOR CRISIS confronts the Navy. The naming of ships has become chaotic. The old sea-dogs do not like it.

All sailors, and most civilians once knew all submarines were named for fish. "Albacore," "Barb," "Amberjack," "Sea Lion," "Tang" and "Tuna" became honored and gallant names in World War II.

But now are being announced the names of the giant sized, nuclear powered, submarines, each of which will carry sixteen polaris missiles. The atomic warheads from any one of these submarines would dwarf the fleet fire power of a World War II battle line.

But are these new submersible giants being named for whales? No indeed. And this brings a mournful tear to every old salt's eye as he admits the ghastly truth.

There will be fifty of these large, polaris bearing subs. Unless the Navy goes in for scientific names of whales, such as the "Balaena Mysticetus," there are not enough names to go around. Even the saddened old salt, shuddered when I suggested this.

ACTUALLY, some of them admit the Navy had already run out of names of smaller fish for the ever growing fleet of more conventional subs, nuclear powered and otherwise. This was admitted when "Triton" (a salt water, Greek deity with a fondness for surf bathing and mermaids) was selected for the new and ultra-ultra, long range, nuclear powered, radar-picket submarine.

Faced with all these dilemmas, the fathers of the fleets settled upon the names of great Americans in all fields as appropriate for the new ballistic missile subs. The first to do her shake-down cruise will be the "George Washington." "Patrick Henry" will soon follow.

Work is in progress on "Theodore Roosevelt," "Robert E. Lee" and "Abraham Lincoln." "Ethan Allen," "Sam Houston," "Thomas A. Edison" and "John Marshall" are next in line.

IF IT HAS NOT already happened, it is a safe bet some governor, or group of governors, will soon come up with a bright idea. Since most state named battleships are headed for scrap or conversion to missile types; and with exactly fifty of these super submarines proposed, why should they not be named for the fifty states of the Union?

The idea might have some merit, but the Navy's idea is better. A submarine is the nearest thing to a one-man show, afloat or ashore. A great skipper makes a great submarine. Hence the Navy's decision to give the young skippers of the future a great man's name to live up to was a good thought.

THE IDEA of naming battle ships for states seems to have originated in President Monroe's "Era of Good Feeling," 1820-25. Seven, large, sailing ships-of-the-line, 86 guns each, were authorized.

They were to be named for New York, Alabama, Vermont, Virginia, North Carolina, Delaware and Ohio. Pennsylvania, the keystone state, was honored with a 120-gun ship-of-the-line, the America's sail Navy.

Three of the eight were finished promptly. The others were worked upon only when war clouds gathered. One was finished as late as 1845. Two, "Virginia" and "New York," were never finished. Steam had made them obsolete.

WHEN STEEL ships began replacing the few rusty ironclads on hand from the Civil War, President Cleveland returned to the idea of naming first line ships for the states.

U.S.S. Texas, 6,600 tons, 17 knots, mounting two 12-inch and six 6-inch guns, commissioned 1895, was the first of these. She fought conspicuously in the Spanish War and vacated the name to a new and far more powerful U.S.S. Texas in 1914.

In like manner every state in the Union has had one or more first line battle wagons of their day named for them. Now completely obsolete, the newest and the last of the great battleships, U.S.S. Wisconsin, 45,000 tons, 33 knots, mounting nine 16-inch, twenty 5-inch, with 149 lesser anti-aircraft guns, was decommissioned a few years ago.

IN THE DAY of the state named battleships, cruisers both heavy and light, were named for cities. The Chambers of Commerce liked that. So did the Navy. Civic pride in the nation's ships is appreciated. But traditional cruiser types are also obsolete.

Thus the Navy is changing old ships are being converted to new types. There is a vast amount of experimentation with unusual vessels and armaments. Newer fighting types are emerging.

Meanwhile does any imaginative landsman or ex-sailor have a good idea for a new systematic naming of ships for our New Navy? The old system seems as obsolete as its ships. Write me your plan and I'll see that the Navy Department gets the word. It is a minor crisis perhaps you can help solve.

TO PLAY GOLF
FINALS TODAY

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP)—Easygoing Charles Smith, suddenly turned tiger on the golf course, and college sophomore Peter Green met today in the 36-hole finals of the North and South Amateur Tournament.

Each scored a spectacular semifinal victory Friday. Smith birdied four of the last five holes in a 20-hole triumph over Glenn Johnson, 37-year-old insurance company operator from Grosse Ile, Mich. Green one-upped nine greens, including a birdie from 16-feet on the last hole to edge Dr. Edward Updegraff 1 up. He is from Tucson, Ariz.

Smith, 29-year-old Gastonia, N.C., automobile dealer, played here four times before and never had gone beyond the third round.

Green is a 19-year-old University of North Carolina industrial relations major from Franklin, Mich.

Old Warrants Are Ready For Payment

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Warrants issued by a court clerk 24 years ago have finally been returned to the court house here for payment.

Treasurer Bernard McKnight says about $80 worth of warrants drawn up in 1935 to pay jurors and witnesses were cashed at a local grocery. But the grocer never turned them in to be reimbursed and they were rediscovered only recently.

Mechanical 'Brain' Errs; Public Loses

MIAMI Fla. (AP)—Bank clerks take heart—even those mechanical brains err sometimes. An electronic monster in the Metropolitan Budget Director's department dropped the last digit in 80,000 personal property tax bills, dropping everybody's taxes by 90 percent. But the error was discovered before the tax bills were mailed out and now the taxpayer will not only have to pay the full tax—he'll also have to pay for all the wasted paper.

AMOSS HURLS 2-HITTER AS MOUNT WINS

Mt. St. Mary's won its third baseball game of the season by smashing out a 12-0 victory over American University at Emmitsburg Friday.

George Amoss, Mount hurler, allowed just two hits and struck out 10 men via his slow curve ball.

Luke Fannon, first baseman, poked three hits, including a homerun and batted in four runs for the winners. Bob Krauss, shortstop, added three more safeties. Mike Allemen, the Mount's swift outfielder, stole his sixth base in eight games.

The Mountaineers, now 3-2, will meet Loyola in a doubleheader at Baltimore Monday.

Hawaiian Has Far East Plan

HONOLULU (AP)—Beautiful Chinese, Samoan, Japanese, Philippine and Australian style buildings on an island designed by the greatest architects of America, Australia and the Far East.

That's the picture painted by U. S. Representative Daniel K. Inouye of the proposed International Trade Center here.

Inouye urged participation by Hawaii with the federal government in the center. He says it was imperative that the 50th state should at the same time "work with our friends and neighbors of the Far East."

SHOT-PUTTERS DUEL TODAY IN DRAKE RELAYS

By RON SPEER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A bitter duel between three of the world's greatest shot-putters today was expected to erase memories of the downpour which spoiled opening day performances in the Drake Relays.

Occasional showers were forecast, but if the sun breaks through the overcast, more than 15,000 persons probably will turn out to watch the first 1960 meeting between Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder.

Dave Davis, who beat O'Brien last week, also is in the field. O'Brien is a two-time Olympic champion and holder of the world shot-put record of 63.4. Nieder has tossed the shot 65-7. Davis has a best toss of 64-10½.

J. D. Martin will be shooting for the world's first 16-foot pole vault, and the AAU 440-yard dash, where Dave Mills of Purdue and Eddie Southern, former Texas runner, will challenge Glen Davis, Davis, formerly of Ohio State, holds the world record and won the event here last year.

Al Lawrence of Houston slogged through the rain for Friday's top performance, an 8:57.4 clocking in the two-mile run. The 28-year-old Australian defeated Baylor's Bob Mellgren by 130 yards.

Podres, only 12-10 lifetime against the Giants after beating them for the second time this season, was trailing 2-1 going into the fifth. An error, Willie McCovey's triple (for his 18th RBI) and Felipe Alou's single counted both runs in the fourth for the Giants—their only scoring frame in 18 innings against Podres this year.

Podres' whammy got down to business in the fifth. Singles by Norm Larker and Maury Wills, and a bunt hit by Podres (who else?) loaded the bases. The Giants then chipped in with three consecutive errors before John Roseboro made the runs a little more respectable with his first major league grand slam homer.

Pizarro (1-1), a fast-balling southpaw, struck out nine and walked but two after relieving Bob Buhl in the third inning. He had to give way in the ninth when he pulled an arm muscle and walked Jim Coker. Warren Spahn came in for a perfect save, facing three men and fanning two.

Bill White Homers
The Cardinals, as if to celebrate their first 500 record (6-6) since July 15, 1958, rapped eight hits off relievers Moe Drabowsky and John Goetz in the eighth—biggest inning of the season in the majors. Bill White drove in three runs in the rally, two with a homer on his second time around.

Ernie Banks drove in all of the Cubs' runs with two homers that gave him a career total of 233 and broke Gabby Hartnett's club record of 231. Banks' first was a three-run shot that junked a fourth-hit shutout by Bob Miller (2-0). The other, his fifth of the year, was off reliever Frank Barnes.

Probe of PIAA Called Off By Committee
HARRISBURG (AP)—There will be no investigation of the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Assn. as ordered by the Legislature.

The Executive Committee of the Joint State Government Commission, research and investigative arm of the Legislature, has decided to pass up the study, it was disclosed Friday.

The Executive Committee, composed of House and Senate leaders, met here Thursday to decide which studies the commission would handle for the remainder of the biennium.

Rejected Arena
The investigation had been asked early last year after the PIAA passed up the brand new basketball facilities in the Farm Show Arena to put the state Class A championship game in the Palestra in Philadelphia.

The resolution lay in a House committee for several months. When it was finally brought to the floor and adopted the PIAA was ready with an announcement of plans to use the Farm Show Arena for this year's title game, held last month.

The commission also decided not to follow through on resolutions directing studies of fishing conditions in the state (A House committee made its own study during the 1959 session) or the new federal boating act as it applies to Pennsylvania motorboat owners.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The owl, ballyhooed in song and verse as being wise, is stupid, says a bird expert.

"The black crow is probably the smartest bird we have," Ganier says. "He is quick-witted, loves to play and has worked out a watch system that protects him."

Michigan Runners Seek To Equal Or Better Record In 66 Year Penn Relays Today

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Michigan runners are going for broke today in the Penn Relays.

Coach Dan Canham's Wolverines have an opportunity to accomplish a feat managed by only two other teams in the 66-year-old history of the Penn carnival. With a break the Big Ten power might even surpass the meet's best team performance.

Michigan won the meet's only major relay title on Friday's opening program of the two-day track and field extravaganza—the distance medley. Additionally, the Midwest runners turned in the best times in qualifying for the 440 and 880-yard relays. They also are entered in today's sprint medley, 2-mile, 4-mile and mile baton-passing events.

Two Won Four Events
Heretofore, only the Pitt Panthers of 1939, and the Michigan team of 1945, have ever won four of the meet's big relay events.

Can the fast, sturdy Michigan boys win four or five or more events?

Canham says they can. The handsome 41-year-old coach says he expected to win the distance medley, and wasn't the least bit surprised at the 4:16 clocking turned in by his 440 quartet. He was startled, however, by the 1:25 performance of his 880 runners.

Despite the fast times by his sprint teams, Canham says his best hopes are in the 2-mile and 4-mile. He's counting on his stout anchorman, the Lithuanian-born Canadian, Ergas Leps, to give the Wolverines that big final kick.

Beat Favored Duke
Leps' mighty finishing kick enabled Michigan to win the distance medley in 9:56.8, whipping favored Duke by 15 yards.

In the quarter-mile final, Michigan faces San Jose State, Maryland State, Morgan State, North Carolina College and Penn State. In the half mile, the Big 10 team will be challenged by the same field plus Villanova.

Villanova, Morgan State, Ohio State and Manhattan join Michigan in the mile relay. Michigan State, Yale, Villanova and Michigan are in the formidable 2-mile field and the Wolverines, Yale, Dartmouth and Manhattan the talent in the sprint medley. Duke

MSM NETMEN LOSE

Podres Makes It 5 Straight Over Giants; Braves Defeat Phils, Cards Down Cubs

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Okay, so left-handers are supposed to be a bit different from other guys. But what's this whammy Johnny Podres has on the San Francisco Giants?

They haven't beaten the Los Angeles Dodgers' sturdy southpaw since Sept. 4, 1958—and he has allowed the Giants only five earned runs in 42 2-3 innings during that span. Podres made it five straight over San Francisco Friday night, beating Sad Sam Jones as the Dodgers made off with eight unearned runs in the fifth inning for a 10-2 frolic.

That slipped the second-place Giants 1½ games behind Pittsburgh, rained out at Cincinnati, but left the Dodgers 0.02 percentage points behind third-place Milwaukee. The Braves defeated Philadelphia 5-3 on Juan Pizarro's six innings of no-hit relief, and the St. Louis Cardinals ripped Chicago's Cubs 16-6, scoring 10 in the eighth.

Roseboro Grand Slams
Podres, only 12-10 lifetime against the Giants after beating them for the second time this season, was trailing 2-1 going into the fifth. In other games Lancaster triumphed 4-1 over Binghamton on Moe Morhardt's hitting and Villanova's pitching and Springfield backed up Corkey Johnson's six-hit pitching for an 8-2 victory over Williamsport.

Allentown managed 11 hits including three doubles in its victory. Dean Robbins paced the attack with one of the doubles and two singles as he drove in two runs and scored two.

Morhardt had a three RBIs on a double and a home run to back up a six-hitter by Hansen in the triumph over Binghamton.

Varied, Unexpected Reactions To Lunch Counter "Sit-downers"

By PERRY MULLEN Associated Press Staff Writer
LeRoy Collins is Democratic governor of the state of Florida, whose white citizens are heirs to a long tradition of racial segregation. He might be expected to deplore the current rash of lunch counter sit-downs by Southern Negro college students.

But when his state capital, Tallahassee, was hit by student demonstrations against segregation of department store luncheon facilities, Collins said:

"If a man has a department store and he invites the public generally to come into his store and trade, I think then it is unfair and morally wrong for him to single out one department and say he does not want or will now allow Negroes to patronize that one department."

"I'd Throw Him Out"
Harry S. Truman is the former Democratic president of the United States from the border state of Missouri. He championed strong civil rights legislation while in office. He might be expected to support the lunch counter demonstrators.

But Truman declared: "If anyone came into my store and tried to stop business I'd throw him out. The Negro should behave himself and show he's a good citizen. Common sense and good will can solve this whole thing."

Thus it was Truman who surprised and pleased the segregationists, Collins who lent a measure of comfort to the integrationist as a new racial debate stirred the country.

Pastor, Governor Differ
The demonstrations started Feb. 1 in Greensboro, N.C., when four Negro college students staged the first lunch counter sit-down at a segregated Southern eating place. They spread to many cities of the South, with sympathy picketing of branch stores in the North.

Church representatives were drawn into the widening debate. Gov. Collins' own Episcopal pastor in Tallahassee, the Rev. Jeffrey Alfriend, differs with the governor.

Not Matter Of Conscience
He said: "I am very tired of hearing it said, 'This is a matter of Christian conscience.' With me, it certainly is not. It is a matter of biological expediency and ordinary common sense."

"And finally, I question the motives or the intelligence or good judgment of any who encourage demonstrations which obviously will lead to increased racial tension and probably violence."

J. Dean Fleming, secretary of the Baptist laymen of Alabama, declared: "The objection to close association between white persons and Negroes stems from the lack of a moral standard on the part of the Negro and the belief that close association will bring intermarriage."

"We're Not Interested"
"The agitators are always referring to what other countries will think of the United States. We are not a bit interested in what they think of us."

To which, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, replied: "Close association hasn't brought about intermarriage in the North. Why do Southerners get so excited when the Negro wants to eat a hamburger at a lunch counter? What they are saying is that if we give the Negro equal rights under the Constitution, then white girls are going to marry them. That's an insult to white women."

Congressmen, of course, have gotten into the debate, along predictable geographic lines.

Constitution Involved
The Constitution is likely to loom large as, increasingly, the NAACP's fight against segregated Southern lunch counters centers on the courts. More than 1,000 Negro student demonstrators have been arrested on a variety of charges.

The NAACP is prepared to argue in their appeals that use of public force against the demonstrators constitutes discrimination in violation of the 14th Amendment.

Meanwhile, what do the young Negro demonstrators hope for? One of them, Clement Carney, 21, jailed in Tallahassee, replied: "Desegregation of restaurants, theaters, bus stations and all other public places. And even the jails if we have to go back. White prisoners in the segregated section across the hall showed less discrimination towards us than people on the outside."

Warnings Issued
What do white Southerners intend to do to thwart these ambitions?

The Tallahassee City Commission has warned it will tolerate no more demonstrations. The argument has become an issue in the Florida gubernatorial campaign.

Alabama has threatened to cut off state funds to Negro schools that harbor demonstrators.

Several Southern cities are following President Eisenhower's suggestion and setting up biracial groups to work for smoother race relations.

Gettysburg Schools Report

What Constitutes A Good School?

When your child calls his last goodbye and slams the door each morning, what is your first reaction? Are you thankful of the opportunity for a little bit of relaxation, or are you more thoughtfully concerned about the opportunity and experiences your child will face throughout the day? All too often the former is true. Many times we feel that the latter question concerns only the administration and teachers. Actually, it concerns all of us.

The process whereby we conduct the affairs of the school is not too much different from that of the home. A well organized school tries to consider the problems and needs of all its members. The administration of these needs rests solely upon the shoulders of teachers, administrators, and parents. The burden of developing the learning processes in the school rests almost solely with the teachers. The patterns and goals are established by the administration. The real support for both of these must come from the parent. A well organized home will have the father as the administrator and the mother as a teacher working together to supply the physical, moral, and spiritual needs of the child. Just as a school is no stronger than its weakest teacher and administrator, so the home is no stronger than its weakest parent.

A good school only results when the parents support the school on its insistence that the youngsters obey all rules and regulations necessary to good learning. The cooperation of all parents with the school is just as important as paying the taxes to support the school.

All of us are engaged in this very serious business of child development. The teaching profession has indicated its talents and skills, acquired through long hours of study and research to the improvement and development of the individualities of children. As parents, all of us must sacrifice our time, our efforts, and our finances to guide and inspire our youth to achieve success, to the best of his ability, in all academic, physical, and social activities.

When our efforts are fully employed in attaining the above goals for the good of our children, then and only then can we say, "These are the things that constitute a good school."

Farm And Building Page

Timely Topics Discussed By Farm Agent F. S. Zettle

By FRANK ZETTEL
County Farm Agent

Every farmer is busy with many spring jobs and dairymen are no exception. But, because heifers are not an actual source of monthly income, they are often first to be neglected.

One of the most neglected jobs is that of hoof care. During the winter heifers' feet grow much faster than they are worn off. Generally heifers are stalled on manure packs until they are turned out on pasture, and it can be harmful if they are turned out on pasture without having this condition corrected.

Cattle with long hoofs carry most of their weight back on their heels. This puts added strain on the hock and pastern joints. By properly trimming these long hoofs before the added activity of the pasture season, this strain on the feet and legs can be lessened. This will allow the animal to move about more freely and be more comfortable on pasture.

Sound Management
In trimming these hoofs, first trim back the long points of the hoof evenly. Then shape the foot by using hoof nippers, a sharp knife, or wood chisel and mallet. Smooth off the underside of the foot so the animal is standing flat on her foot and carrying her weight well on her toes. This may be done by picking up the foot while working on the sole, or by throwing the animal and working on the sole of the foot while she is lying down. By either method, a sharp knife or wood chisel or a small electric sander may be used to level the sole of the foot.

Keeping feet trimmed on all animals in the herd is a sound management practice.

Farm Incorporation Problems
Don't rush to farm incorporation as the solution to all your problems. Incorporation is useful, in the right circumstances, but clear thinking will help you put it in its proper place.

An incorporation (1) has no inherent tax advantage; (2) is seldom helpful for raising farming capital; (3) of itself does not increase a farmer's ability or ease of getting credit; (4) in no way relieves the farmer of responsibility for debts; (5) in no way relieves the farmer of losses; (6) does not automatically bring agreement among folks who disagree; (7) does not automatically solve all inheritance problems; (8) involves "red tape" at the time it is set up and each year thereafter. Clearly, a corporation does not have a grant that allows it to be dishonest. And, a corporation, like any other business form, must be well run.

Urges Test Of Water Supply
Many rural and urban home owners as well as farmers are using water which is not fit to drink. Recently our local health officer reported that 75 per cent of the wells in the county are polluted. Samples which test "not safe" show the water contains coliform bacteria, a group of organisms found in sewage from animals and people.

More people are moving to the country and sewage from septic tanks and private sewage disposal systems is building up in the soil. Such contamination is picked up by surface water which may run unchecked directly into wells and the sink holes to contaminate the springs and underground supply.

Serious Health Problem
Use of contaminated water presents a serious health problem. Many disease producing organisms are water-borne. Cholera, dysentery and typhoid fever germs are known to be carried in drinking water and it is entirely possible that the virus which causes polio and many other ailments travel the same way.

Three methods are suggested for purifying water: Chlorination, silver purification and ultra-violet sterilization. Commercial equipment based on each of these methods is available from local dealers but installation and use may not be necessary if a better job of housekeeping is done around wells or springs.

Rural home owners are urged to take time to clean and disinfect wells or springs and protect them from surface drainage and contamination. Test all home water supplies at least twice a year to be sure of safety. A free publication, "Make Your Water Supply Safe," can be obtained from the local agricultural extension office.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Highways Department Friday awarded a $150,475 contract for construction of a bridge on a legislative route in Lancaster County.

J. D. Eckman Inc., Atglen, Chester County, will build the bridge over the west branch of Octoraro Creek in the vicinity of Kings bridge. It will be 18 feet wide and .94 of a mile long.

PERRY MASON HAS STARTED ITS RERUNS

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Television, during these days of the "aning season, seems to be rushing around like a housewife cleaning out the closets before putting on the slip-covers for summer.

This evening, most of the popular shows are still new—only "Perry Mason" has turned to re-runs so far. And, of course, earlier in the day there is baseball—NBC (1:55 p.m.) is televising the New York Yankees and the Baltimore Orioles from Baltimore.

Sunday brings "The Frances Langford Show" to NBC's Sunday Showcase (8-9 p.m.) with Johnny Mathis, Hermione Gingold, Mary Costa and Don Ameche. One of those famous old Bickerson bits with Miss Langford, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans (NBC, 9-10 p.m.) will abandon the old corral for an "Aquarodeo," substituting sharks for broncos and turtles for calves in underwater contests.

Tone As Twain
It will also be a big night for Oscar Homolka fans: He will appear in the GE Theater and the Alfred Hitchcock show on CBS in rapid succession. He's first (9-9:30) in "The Ugly Duckling," an adaptation of the old children's tale, and following immediately he co-stars with Eric Portman in "The Hero."

Franchot Tone portrays Mark Twain on Monday night in Playhouse 90's production of "The Shape of the River" on CBS, 8 to 8:30 p.m. Then comes NBC's adaptation of George Bernard Shaw's "Captain Brassbound's Conversion," with Greer Garson and Christopher Plummer.

Big G And S Week
NBC's Tuesday night Startime will be called "Fun Fair," a salute to those bucolic institutions, with Celeste Holm as hostess and Miss Gungold (again), the Great Ballantine and Margaret Hamilton aiding and abetting.

"The Girl in the Gold Bath Tub" is the title of CBS' Steel Hour's Wednesday night show (10-11). It is a comedy starring Marisa Pavan, supported by Johnny Carson and Jessie Royce Landis. On Thursday evening the main event is a repeat—Ernie Ford's version of "H. M. S. Pinafore" on NBC—which means a big Gilbert and Sullivan week on the network.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration announced Friday it would issue bid invitations in May for equipment items and material at the Susquehanna sub-depot at Allenwood, Pa., for off-site removal. The GSA said it plans tentatively to open the bids June 5 in New York.

Many Homes Need To Have Inspection For Adequate Wiring, Says Mrs. Tunison

By MRS. HELEN TUNISON
County Home Economist

Do you have a new electric appliance at your house? If the answer is "yes," a check of your house wiring system is probably in order.

Ordinary extension cords carry up to 500 watts of electricity. They cannot carry enough to supply heating appliances, such as irons, waffle irons or toasters which need 100 watts or more. Neither can they supply current to three or four lamps, a radio and a clock. If extension cords are needed for irons and other heating appliances, they should be made of heater cord with asbestos and a hard rubber connector and outlet plug.

The wiring system of the house may need to be checked to locate the number and location of outlets on each circuit. Too many appliances plugged into one circuit will blow the fuse. Wires may become overheated and fires can result.

A chart in the main switch box may give you information about the size of circuits and to which outlets they are connected. If the chart is missing, prevent trouble with blown fuses by tracing the circuits yourself. A general purpose circuit fused with a 15-ampere fuse will carry about 1,800 watts of electricity and an appliance circuit with 20-ampere fuse carries about 2,400 watts.

Don't add a connector to a wall outlet for more extension or plugs. You don't get full value of the current coming through the meter.

Facts On Laundry Products
Good laundry practices are the basis for having clean clothes. The practices need few ingredients—water, washing products, and agitation usually supplied by a washing machine. Yet the array of laundry products available is bewildering.

A homemaker may choose from soaps, synthetic detergents, bleaches and fabric brighteners. She may buy water conditioners, fabric softeners and starches. Each is an aid in laundering when used with understanding. A soap or synthetic detergent loosens and holds soil in suspension so water can carry it away. Condition of the water, type of washing machine, size of wash load and amount of solid and other laundry products used influence the effectiveness of a soap or synthetic detergent. That is why a homemaker needs to consider all laundry conditions when selecting this washing product. After choosing one she must use it according to directions on the container.

YORK NEGRO GIVEN MEDAL

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Thomas Lowe Jr., 35, of York, is the owner of a bronze medal from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. The Negro laborer received the award Friday for saving an eight-year-old boy from drowning in the Susquehanna River at Goldsboro, Pa., on April 29, 1959.

Lowe jumped in the river after Galen H. Krone fell in from a moored barge where he had been fishing. Swimming to a spot where young Krone had disappeared, Lowe dived beneath the surface three times before he got hold of the boy.

Lowe then swam to shore, holding the boy's head above water. Lowe was one of 26 persons cited for heroism by the commission. One person received a silver medal, which is the second highest presented by the group. A gold medal, the highest award, is rarely presented.

IRATE MOTORIST IS NABBED AS BURGLAR

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Donald Reeve's car battery went dead. Enraged, he shattered the rear-view mirror, severely cutting his hand.

He sought help at a nearby apartment building, but frightened residents, thinking he might be a robber, locked their doors and called police.

The officers were waiting when Reeves returned after having several stitches taken in his wound at a hospital.

CHESSMAN IS DENIED PLEA ON 4 TO 3 RULE

By JOHN R. WAR D
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's attorneys today prepared last-ditch legal strategy aimed at saving the calm, hawk-nosed convict author from San Quentin's green gas chamber Monday.

George T. Davis planned a new application for a writ of habeas corpus which he said would raise questions of federal due process. He asked William I. Sullivan, clerk of the State Supreme Court, to be on hand at noon today to accept it for filing.

The condemned Los Angeles red light bandit's petition for a clemency recommendation was denied by the court Friday for the third time, 4-3, after an unusual late-day session of two hours, 40 minutes.

End Seems Near
At San Quentin, Warden Fred Dickson arranged a last news conference for Chessman at 10 a. m.—48 hours before the six-foot convict's ninth date with death in the octagonal chamber.

Despite the chins-up statement by his attorneys, it appeared the 38-year-old self-taught writer was approaching the end of his nearly 12 years on death row. Chessman will be 39 on May 27, if he lives. He accepted calmly the news of the court's action. After inquiring about the vote, he told a guard lieutenant: "Thank you very much."

Here's The Answer

By ANDY LANG

Question: I keep reading conflicting things about the application of lacquer with a brush. Once I read that the lacquer should be applied just as it comes from the can. Another time I read that it should be mixed with one-third lacquer thinner. And still another time the advice was that it should be mixed half and half with lacquer thinner. Please set me straight on this.

Answer: If you plan to put on only a single coat of lacquer, it probably is best to use the lacquer without mixing it with thinner. But lacquer that is not thinned is difficult to apply properly. You will be able to smooth out the lacquer more evenly and get a far better job if you put on at least two and preferably three coats. In that event, the lacquer very definitely should be mixed with lacquer thinner. Some authorities recommend a one-third quantity of thinner, others a half-and-half mixture. We're partial to the half-and-half idea and we also recommend three coats for extra toughness. Sand between coats with extra fine sandpaper of the "wet" variety. This special sandpaper is applied when it has been soaked with ordinary water or household oil. To smooth the final coat and slightly cut the gloss rub it down with pumice powder and water or oil.

ception, telephoned his Sacramento office and issued this statement: "This means my hands are still completely tied. I am powerless to take any action."

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Thomas Lowe Jr., 35, of York, is the owner of a bronze medal from the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission. The Negro laborer received the award Friday for saving an eight-year-old boy from drowning in the Susquehanna River at Goldsboro, Pa., on April 29, 1959.

Lowe jumped in the river after Galen H. Krone fell in from a moored barge where he had been fishing. Swimming to a spot where young Krone had disappeared, Lowe dived beneath the surface three times before he got hold of the boy.

Lowe then swam to shore, holding the boy's head above water. Lowe was one of 26 persons cited for heroism by the commission. One person received a silver medal, which is the second highest presented by the group. A gold medal, the highest award, is rarely presented.

IRATE MOTORIST IS NABBED AS BURGLAR

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Donald Reeve's car battery went dead. Enraged, he shattered the rear-view mirror, severely cutting his hand.

He sought help at a nearby apartment building, but frightened residents, thinking he might be a robber, locked their doors and called police.

The officers were waiting when Reeves returned after having several stitches taken in his wound at a hospital.

CHESSMAN IS DENIED PLEA ON 4 TO 3 RULE

By JOHN R. WAR D
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Caryl Chessman's attorneys today prepared last-ditch legal strategy aimed at saving the calm, hawk-nosed convict author from San Quentin's green gas chamber Monday.

George T. Davis planned a new application for a writ of habeas corpus which he said would raise questions of federal due process. He asked William I. Sullivan, clerk of the State Supreme Court, to be on hand at noon today to accept it for filing.

The condemned Los Angeles red light bandit's petition for a clemency recommendation was denied by the court Friday for the third time, 4-3, after an unusual late-day session of two hours, 40 minutes.

End Seems Near
At San Quentin, Warden Fred Dickson arranged a last news conference for Chessman at 10 a. m.—48 hours before the six-foot convict's ninth date with death in the octagonal chamber.

Despite the chins-up statement by his attorneys, it appeared the 38-year-old self-taught writer was approaching the end of his nearly 12 years on death row. Chessman will be 39 on May 27, if he lives. He accepted calmly the news of the court's action. After inquiring about the vote, he told a guard lieutenant: "Thank you very much."

U. S. BUSINESS IS GIVEN BOTH HOPE, ADVICE

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — American manufacturers worried by increased foreign competition in overseas markets and by a growing flow of foreign goods into the domestic market got both hope and advice today.

The hope comes from U.S. Department of Commerce figures confirming the recent spurt in exports—even though imports are rising, too—and from official predictions that foreign barriers to U.S. goods will be lowered still further.

The advice comes from several private sources pointing out how Americans can upgrade their competitive tactics and regain old markets and create new ones.

Rebuts Indictment
They add up to a rebuttal of the often-heard indictment that Americans are being priced out of world and domestic markets. That isn't necessarily so, a sizable number of world trade observers tell us.

They show why Americans often have found themselves outbid abroad for reasons other than price. They urge that some changes be made in our old sales, distribution, and production methods to fit them into the new world trade situation.

The official figures show that in the first three months of this year commercial exports topped the year-ago totals by 21 per cent. Early estimates on imports put them 10 to 15 per cent ahead. The spurt in exports was helped by large sales abroad by our government of cotton—at prices lower than at home—and by the revival of steel production after the strike.

Eases Threat To Reserve
Whether the gains will continue is doubtful, but it does ease by that much the threat to our gold reserve, pulled down when the balance of trade was running strongly against us.

But some things Americans could do to increase their overseas trade are being set forth. Advantages which they have and should push harder are set forth by Richard P. Miller, international economic director of Wolf Management Engineering Co., Chicago. These include faster delivery, better reorder handling, often higher quality products, and generally better quality control.

Two advantages that foreigners have pushed could be overcome, he says. These are foreign manufacturers' refusal to take small orders so that they can operate in quantity and therefore cheaper, and delays by some American companies in putting in new machinery and new manufacturing techniques which the postwar factories of Western Europe and Japan have.

Miller thinks Americans take too many small orders and force up prices. He says that those American companies that have equalled these foreign tolls have been able to overwhelm foreign competition. A special tool is increased product research and automation.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Police Thursday recovered the body of Albert John Desiderio Jr., of Springfield, Pa., member of the U. S. Navy band, was killed Feb. 25, when the plane carrying the band and a Brazilian plane collided. The band was to have played at a U. S. Embassy reception for President Eisenhower.

Desiderio's body was washed ashore from Guanabara Bay, near the scene of the collision.

PARAGUAY INVADED BY MANY EXILES

By NESTOR VERDINA

ASUNCION, Paraguay (AP)—fighting was reported today against armed invaders seeking to overthrow the strongman government of Alfredo Stroessner.

The government said casualties had been inflicted on the rebels, who struck across the jungles from Argentina.

(Paraguayan sources in Argentina said several columns of Paraguayan exiles had launched invasions from Brazil as well as Argentina).

Paraguayan air force planes bombed the battleground on the upper reaches of the Parana River that forms the boundary between Paraguay and Argentina's Misiones province.

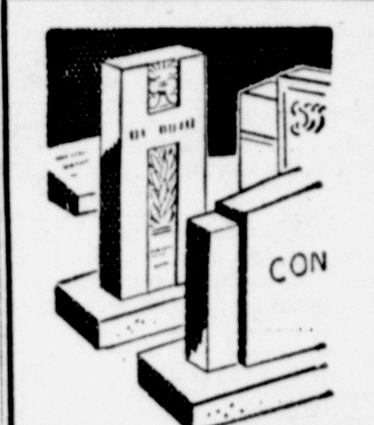

500 In One Band
The rest of Paraguay was officially described as calm.

The rebels appeared in greater strength than an invasion force of about 1,000 men which was repulsed last December.

A communique said one insurgent band of about 500 men was beaten off Friday in attacking the tropical jungle town of Perto Carlos Antonio Lopez on the Parana River.

The Interior Ministry admitted the fall of the village of Colonia Otano only 10 miles away, to 50 rebels but said the town was defended by only five policemen.

The Stroessner government charged that the invaders were equipped with Argentine weapons. Civilian militiamen were reported to have joined local police in putting up a stiff fight when the invaders moved into southeastern Paraguay.
